FRONTIER AIRLINES LAUNCHES NEW SERVICE BETWEEN SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA AND CABO SAN LUCAS, MEXICO

Frontier partners with Mineta San Jose International Airport, connecting Silicon Valley to Mexico

SAN JOSÉ, CA.—February 11, 2007— Beginning March 3, 2007, Frontier will begin non-stop service four times a week between Mineta San Jose International Airport (SJC) and Cabo San Lucas (SJD) airports. Frontier Airlines estimates that this service could mean 50,000 more northern California visitors a year for Cabo San Lucas. Conversely, San Jose could potentially expect up to 5,000 visitors year in the early stages of the service.

“We think this has a lot of potential for growth down the road,” said Daniel Fenton, president & CEO of the San Jose Convention & Visitors Bureau. “Between this and other international airline service coming along in the future, we will be better able to position San Jose as an international business and convention destination.”

For information on the service, which will be aboard Frontier’s new fleet of Airbus 319 with 33 inches of legroom along with DIRECTV and pay-per-view movies in every seat back, visit <http://www.frontierairlines.com/frontier/specials/online-deals/SJCSJD.do>. Online visitors will also learn about how to earn double miles as well as clarify travel restrictions (*i.e. round-trip purchase required, black-out dates, etc.).
