About Team San Jose

Team San Jose serves as a one-stop shop for customers' meetings and events, saving planners valuable time, energy and resources. From venues and housing to customized menus, plus marketing and strategic planning, TSJ handles all the details rather than hand clients off to various entities to book each aspect of a meeting. This streamlined solution to booking the destination, from the smallest corporate group to a big city wide, makes booking and meeting in San Jose simple and easy.

One-stop Sales Solution

Team San Jose Sales Managers are destination experts and your point person through the sales and booking process. Managers work on your behalf to book hotel room blocks, meetings space programming and Food and Beverage planning. They can assist with destination awareness information and tours, unique meeting venue site tours and selection, and hotel property tours. The Sales team can also make connections with various San Jose businesses and groups, coordinate extraordinary special event needs and assist with the contracting process. Team San Jose's one-stop sales solution gives you one contact to book your entire event in San Jose.

One-stop Event Services Solution

From beginning to end, your Event Services Manager is your partner for strategic planning and onsite event management that can assist with all your event coordination needs including permitting, meeting and event room layout, menu selection, assistance with vendor, hotel and convention services communications and more. Team San Jose's renowned one-stop service model is why 98% of meeting planners say they would book again in San Jose.
