

A California Estate of Mind

Hayes Mansion has never been your typical box hotel. Built in 1905, this was once the lavish estate of the Hayes family before becoming a conference center and eventually the iconic hotel it is today. We offer a unique experience for everyone, whether you're here for business or pleasure—from meetings and private events, to simply unwinding in the historic charm of San Jose. We invite you to think outside the box and elevate your experience at Hayes Mansion, where your event is bound to make history.
